

Be free of exploitation in Belgium

Are you forced to do things you don't want to do?

Is someone overseeing or controlling you?

Is this person using violence or threatening you?

Don't you feel free to leave?

Do you seek for help?

Are you forced to work at the place where you are staying?

Did you have to pay to get to Belgium and do you have to reimburse the money through forced work or sexual services?

Are you coerced or blackmailed to do things you don't want to?

Are you working long hours for less than 9 euro per hour?

Are you scared from the people you are living with or working for?

If these indications apply to your situation you could be a victim of human trafficking?

If you need help, contact the National centers for victims of human trafficking

If you are in immediate danger contact the police, call 101
